

Mrs. Sandi McPeek's Biography

Learning has always been a passion for Mrs. McPeek, and she is dedicated to sharing that excitement with her students. From fostering an atmosphere that promotes respect to utilizing diverse strategies to address student needs, Mrs. McPeek ensures all her students are supported and guided to success.

Mrs. McPeek grew up in Illinois and received a B.A. in English with a minor in Psychology from Columbia College. She then moved near San Diego and began a career in marketing for a computer company. Although she enjoyed the challenges of the business world, she realized that she really wanted a career that involved helping people. Mrs. McPeek decided to go back to school at California State University to obtain her teaching certification. After completing the program, she and her husband, Shawn, moved to Longmont.

For several years, Mrs. McPeek taught as a third grade teacher at Pinnacle Charter School in Federal Heights, and she is excited to bring her experience and love of learning to the students at CVA. She is currently enrolled in a Master's Degree program at the University of Northern Colorado, studying Gifted and Talented Education.
