Carbon Valley Charter Academy Hires New Resource Teacher

Frederick, CO - - - Chad Auer, Principal of Carbon Valley Academy, recently announced the hiring of Dr. Carol Picard, who will serve as the resource teacher for the public charter school.

Picard has a Ph.D. in teacher education/staff development from Colorado State University, a Master's degree in special education and a Bachelor's degree in social science from San Jose State University. For the previous six years, Picard has taught elementary math methods at the University of Northern Colorado and has worked to coordinate graduate licensure programs.

"I am looking forward to returning to the classroom full-time to again teach special education," says Picard.

Auer says, "I am very excited to have Dr. Picard join our team. We are constantly looking to improve our school and the addition of Dr. Picard is a clear example of that commitment."

Carbon Valley Academy is a public charter school serving the communities of Firestone, Frederick, Dacono and the surrounding area.
